Seal Sale Nears Goal

Christmas Seal contributions are still coming in, and the total Friday for Calgary and district now stands at $42,750, according to C. T. Webb, chairman of the Calgary Kinsmen Club Christmas Seal committee. This is only $2,250 short of the objective of $45,000, and could be made up quickly if all who haven't already sent contributions would follow the advice, "don't delay—do it now!"

Mr. Webb said, "We know there must still be many district residents who intend to help us fight tuberculosis again this year, and we will be grateful for a prompt response to this appeal. It has always been our policy not to allow our campaign to drag on and on for months, but we simply must have enough money to 'carry the fight to the enemy' if we are to achieve ultimate success. The sooner we can close our books the sooner we can issue our annual 'report to the people.'

Provincial returns Friday amounted to $171,600, it is reported by officials of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, whose activities include surveys by the Christmas Seal mobile chest X-ray units, installation of special X-ray equipment in hospitals, vocational training and rehabilitation for Tb. patients, health education, nursing and welfare services, and other preventive measures.

Christmas Seal contributions are Income Tax deductible and receipt will be issued on request.

So... This Is Canada!

COLD, SNOW and blizzard keep some folks close to the fireside, dreaming of hot summer days, and the old swimming hole. Other Albertans see sports and pleasure on ski trails breaking the new-driven snow.

Gilbert Jean and Const. Leo Brisson.

LITTLE GILBERT JEAN of Montreal is shown above chatting to his rescuer in the hospital following his narrow escape with death recently. Constable Brisson, who has saved many drowning persons during his 23 years with the Montreal Police Force, added the life of the five-year-old boy to his list. Gilbert had fallen into the Lachine Canal, which cuts through the south-west section of the city, while playing with his friends. After pulling Gilbert's limp body from the canal Brisson administered artificial respiration for 20 minutes before the young boy began to breathe.

...and, quite frankly it doesn't seem to impress this self-possessed, canny, little two-and-a-half-year-old Scot. He is JAMES WILLIAM HOURSTON, he comes from Saltcoats, Ayrshire, Scotland, and... If you are interested, he is going to Winnipeg... and, he also looks as though he is quite capable of making the trip all by himself. The kilted Scot was one of 500 men, women and children who arrived in Montreal recently for the city and points west. They reached Canada on the Aquitania.

Being Prepared

There is nothing but common sense and good judgment in the nations of the world being prepared for eventualities with regard to the Soviet Republics. There are too many signs that the Communists in Moscow are not planning any above board policy of peace. Until the Western world stands ready and fully armed for any sudden attack, it would be the height of folly to reduce the efforts that alone secure safety and spell the necessity of being prepared.

The Soviet statesmen, if they can be called by the name, instead of Communist thugs, are quite plainly engaged in a policy of bleeding the Western nations white with preparations for a threatened war. When the point of despair has been reached, Moscow will act openly and, like a vulture fly to the kill. That is clearly the picture in Moscow's mind.

But the Western world is not likely to falter or fall down in its economy, or its preparation for defence. Whatever the cost or sacrifice will be, the free nations must rearm to meet a wicked and deceptive foe.

British publications are stressing the thought that the Churchill government's steps to strengthen the program for re-armament, and to re-establish the national home guard, are signs that the west realizes the risk of war with Russia has not diminished. It is wisdom to Be Prepared.

With Winston Churchill back in power, and resuming his world-famous trips abroad in the interests of world security, the famous Churchillian "V" for Victory sign and the ever-present Churchill cigar are signs of confidence to a troubled world.

Ornithopter and Snallygaster

A recent editorial in this paper told about a new flying something or other at Medicine Hat that was called the ornithopter. Now comes word from Baltimore that the ornithopter is just an attempt to copy the snallygaster, which was famous in Maryland some twenty years ago.

The main difference between the ornithopter and the snallygaster is that the snallygaster is a creature and the ornithopter a mechanical whatsit. Maryland's snallygaster beat its wings, rode a bicycle and uttered strange, low snallygasterian cries, according to the old reports, which are being retraced today. The snallygaster also had a habit of raiding moonshine stills in the North Maryland country, which vocation the ornithopter cannot hope to pursue, being a mechanical contraption.

Marylanders, these days, are making snide remarks about the ornithopter and saying they had a flying whatsit some twenty years ago. The ornithopter, they say, is just a cheap imitation of the original snallygaster, and the argument goes on in the newspapers. Whether you prefer the ornithopter or the snallygaster—that is the question, if anyone cares.

A Thorny Problem

One of the most difficult problems to contemplate faces parliament before another general election can be called by Ottawa. This is the redistribution problem, which will likely have to be tackled during the next session of parliament.

The electoral quota for each constituency now is reported to be 53,585, on the basis of the census of population for 1951, of $13,893,208, giving a house of 262 members. There are instances where constituencies must be merged and others divided, and countless arguments and objections are sure to be heard regarding the decisions of the electoral committee when it gets to work.

It will be a task of giants to satisfy all parties, and it is not likely such a result will be achieved, even with the very best of intentions and the wisest policy of compromise. What interests Alberta, however, is that this province's representation will be increased by at least one member. Saskatchewan's will be reduced by about one.

The west is not gaining in representation as rapidly as is hoped, but the way is slow and the inequalities between the populous east and the less populated west will some day be more fairly dealt with.

Monkey Wrench in the Oil Well

By T. W. PUE

This story is being circulated as being absolutely true. Someone claims it happened, but whether in Alberta, Texas or Venezuela I don't know.

Seems a careless Roughneck dropped a monkey wrench down the hole of an oil well that was several thousand feet deep. After a great deal of trouble and expense the drilling company finally managed to retrieve the offensive tool. With mixed feelings of exasperation and retribution, the foreman handed the monkey wrench to the careless worker and said: "You've just cost us $2,000 with your carelessness."

We don't need this monkey wrench or you any more. You're fired—and take the d— thing with you."

"Well, if I'm fired," said the sober faced Roughneck, "I don't need it any more either."

So he threw the wrench back in the hole and walked off the job!

One is from Mrs. M. A. Bettin, former local editor of the Beiseker Times, whose boy-and-girl twins smile happily beside a picture of a portly Santa Claus attempting to get into a much smaller chimney. The Bettin family has moved to live in British Columbia. These twins, well known in Beiseker, are inseparable. You couldn't make one cry, when they were younger, without the other crying too. You couldn't get one to go anywhere without the other. Always together they are always happy; separate them and they're inconsolable.

Another photo card came from Honolulu, Hawaii where Mr. and Mrs. Allan Caldwell, former South Edmonton residents are now living. Their daughter Doreen is pictured on their Christmas card. The steady year 'round temperature of the Hawaiian climate is 70 to 80. By way of contrast, L. R. Porter in the Hughenden Record, while ever mindful of the 40 degrees below zero readings possible in Hughenden in winter remembers readings over 100 degrees in the same town! She says that in Oklahoma they get high readings of 114 above but they have air-conditioned stores that keep it cool as springtime—or, we'd say, Wal-ki-ki Beach at Honolulu anytime.

ASTOUNDING BACHELOR FACTS

Some interesting facts about Alberta bachelors have come to light in the news columns of some of our papers. For instance, the Morinville Journal reveals that Maurice Montpellier of Morinville is the lucky winner of a Canadian-Irish sweepstakes. And Maurice an eligible bachelor too, our reporter adds!

The Happy Circle W.I. in Mannville was reported in the Mannville Mirror as having prepared three Christmas hampers for local district bachelors. Hum—the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

George Wengreniuk, reporting in the Onoway Westerner says there are more bachelors per square mile in Rich Valley than any other district in Alberta. What are you girls doing in the city this leap-year, we'd like to know? Just because you get $200 per month for working 32 hours a week, spend six weeks in Florida or California every year and drive a Cadillac to work is no reason why you should miff your chances by not spending some time this year in Rich Valley!

TOUGH DRIVING

According to a recent report in the Lamont Journal, sent in by our Chipman correspondent, the highway there is a graveyard of ditched automobiles.

Between Chipman and Edmonton on Highway 15 recently a motorist counted 48 ruts in the snow-banks and ditches showing where cars have slipped in. This is some indication of the icy condition of the roads, believed to be the worst in some years.

Answering a letter to Voice headed "Suds In Your Eye", here's a poem I clipped from the Ottawa Citizen, Dec. 17:

He smiled and he murmured, "LUX with me."

As the beautiful PRINCESS he spied;

He thought of a scheme to SURPRISE her,

And hoped she WOODBURY her pride.

"You think that my head's solid IVORY,
But you don't get the 'DREFT' dear," he sighed;
"If I had you to COMFORT and CHEER me,
I would e're be a SURF by your side."

"May I ho'd your PALMOLIVE?" he whispered,
But by now she was fit to be TIDE;

She angrily said, 'VEL—that DUZ it!'
Not on your LIFEBOUY," she cried.

ELIZABETH ON TV

I didn't agree with your letter to Lizzie, I wouldn't be in her shoes on a bet. We followed her around on television from the time she arrived in Canada, through to her visit to Washington. She came off the big plane from Montreal and when coming down the steps looked back to see if Philip was there. Sure enough—he was right behind her. She seemed at ease as she replied to the address of welcome given her at Washington Airport by the President. She was very lovely and very human.

Magazine Describes "Bad Lands" Of Drumheller Valley, Home of Dinosaurs

The story of the Red Deer Valley, "the richest dinosaur graveyard in the world," and "the most paintable valley in Canada," is told in full in the current issue of Maclean's Magazine.

Assistant editor Barbara Moon visited the Drumheller area to gather material at first hand about the area, which she calls "Dinosaur Valley, Alta."

Photographs in full color accompany the article.

Miss Moon writes: "Drumheller . . . has appropriated to itself the honor of being Gateway to the Badlands. It points out with sweet reasonableness that it's the only city actually in the valley . . . Hanna, on the plains to the northeast, and Brooks, to the southeast, have both made tentative passes at the Gateway title, but so far Drumheller is away ahead on points."

"The Red Deer badlands are generally acknowledged to boast the thickest concentration of dinosaur bones in the world," the Maclean's article reports, adding "the Russians of course challenge this claim".

The article traces the colorful history of the region and pays tribute to the work of Wilfred Garstang-Hodgson, who carves juniper roots into prized sculptures.

Big sore spot with Drumheller's Mayor John Mackay, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is the valley's "skimp tourist trade", Miss Moon writes. "In spite of highly colored broadsides from his office and from the Alberta Government, only a few hundred trippers trickle into the valley each year."

Blame Lack Highway Maintenance For Accidents

MAYERTHORPE—Residents of this district blame the condition of the Edmonton highway for the flood of accidents, resulting in at least one death, which have engulfed this district. It is claimed that the high maintainer could roughen up the icy surface of the road and scrape the loose ice to the side of the road.

Now the highway is deeply rutted in most places with smooth glare ice on the surface, making it difficult for truckers and motorists to avoid hitting on-coming traffic.

Two New Groups Added To Alberta Civil Defence

Two new local organizations have been added to the growing list of municipalities that are civil defence conscious. The new groups that have set up civil defence organizations and the names of their controllers are: Municipal District of Provost No. 52, S. T. Payne, controller; and Town of Bowness, Daniel P. Gillan, controller.

IS YOUR FARMING ENTERPRISE LARGE ENOUGH?

By GEORGE WENGERNIK

RICH VALLEY—In every country in the world, in every century of man's progress it has been the tiller of the soil who has carried the weight of civilization.

Here in Canada it is even more true. In Alberta the sale of barley alone is equal to the total production value of our famous oil-fields. The foundation of our economy, the very structure of our national life is built upon the industry, initiative and toll of men who produce food for the nation and for the peoples of the world.

The modern Canadian farmer must not only have a strong back, he must have a good education and above all be a good business man, because of the greater capital investment. This brings me to one of the many factors which will eventually lead to a better understanding of the whole farming enterprise and in this way to continual improvement, greater efficiency and higher profits. The factor that I will deal with in this issue is, "Is your farm large enough to fully utilize the family labor?"

Here is a guide in determining labor requirements on Canadian farms. Work days required for each farm enterprise is listed below.

RECIPE HINTS

Chicken Pie makes fine, filling fare these cold, crisp nights! Serve it for Sunday dinner, or take one to the church supper.

CHICKEN PIE

One fowl (4 to 5 lbs.) disjointed, 1 bay leaf, 2 tsp. salt, few grains pepper, dash celery salt, 1½ tsp. pure monosodium glutamate, for flavor, boiling water, 1 lb. small white onions, 1 bunch carrots, sliced, 6 tbsp. flour, 6 tbsp. cold water, 1 tbsp. prepared horseradish, biscuit dough.

Place fowl in deep kettle; add bay leaf, salt, pepper, celery salt and 1 teaspoon pure monosodium glutamate. Add enough boiling water to cover. Simmer 2 hours or until fowl is tender. Meanwhile cook onions and carrots separately, adding ¼ tsp. pure monosodium glutamate to each vegetable.

Remove fowl and drained vegetables to large, shallow baking dish; strain broth in kettle; measure out 3 cups. Add vegetable waters to the broth, to make 4 cups in all, adding more water if necessary. Add flour, mixed smooth with cold water; cook over low heat, stirring, until thickened; add remaining monosodium glutamate and horseradish; pour over fowl and vegetables. Roll biscuit dough ½ inch thick; cut with chicken-shaped cookie cutter. Arrange on baking dish. Add bits of raisins for eyes, if desired. Bake in hot oven, 25 to 30 minutes, or until biscuits are golden brown. Yields 6 to 8 servings.

WESTERN WHEAT FARMERS WANT BOOST IN 1951-52 PRICE

By DICK BROME

(British United Press Correspondent)

OTTAWA—(BUP)—Canada's prairie farmers are expected to renew demands for a new boost in the international wheat agreement price for their 1951-52 crop.

Canadian experts predicted in the latest trade department wheat review that the current tight supply in world wheat trade would continue through the winter. The report also said free market wheat prices already were "strong" and indicated they would go higher.

Loss due to weather and delays in sales was expected to strengthen the farmers' demands.

Reduced crops in Argentina, Australia and the United States left a large share of the burden of supplying deficit areas up to Canada. The catch was that uncounted millions of bushels of Canadian wheat were frozen in the fields by early snows.

Although it was not expected to suffer greatly in loss of grade because most of the wheat had been mature when the snows halted harvesting operations, the amount would not be known until next year.

Wheat officials would not even estimate the total. They said "a significant portion" of the crop that had been expected to reach a near record 579,000,000 (M) bushels would not be harvested until late spring.

The fact that Canada had 186,000,000 (M) bushels left from the 1950-51 export crop to carry over, eased the situation somewhat. The visible supply available for IWA trade on Oct. 1 was 7,000,000 (M) bushels below the supply of a year ago.

The department's report pointed out, however, that Canada's total crop may fall short of the estimates when the full extent to fall frost and snow damage is known.

At any rate, the report indicated the "strong" prices on the open market would continue through the winter. Bad distribution facilities, experts said, were partly to blame for the shortages in some areas.

Canadian farmers get $1.90 (Canadian) a bushel for the 232,000,000 (M) bushels guaranteed to be sold under the agreement and for any more they might sell the IWA countries. So far fixed sales agreements have been taken up on 76,000,000 (M) bushels. Deliveries have been slow because of a lack of ships.

In addition to the $1.90 price, the government wheat board collects six cents per bushel handling charge from the purchasing nation.

GOING WEST

LETTERS TO LOUISA

A reader writes that he has been engaged to a girl for a year and a half and expected to marry her this year. She went off to live with her sister and has written him that she has changed her mind. He wants to know what he can do to get her back.

Well, the only thing I can suggest is for him to go and see her and try to find out why she has changed her mind. It may be that she is one of those girls who likes the fellow that is present and not the one who is away. If she has fallen in love with some one else, there is very little he can do about it.

A girl who is in High School writes that she is in love with her best friend's boy friend and that he is in love with her. Now her friend is angry with her.

Personally, I think it is a low trick to use your friendship with another girl to snatch her boy friend away. The honorable thing to have done, if you saw yourself falling in love with him, would be to stay away from him as much as possible. However, if the two of you fell in love with each other and you had not done anything to bring this about, it would be something you couldn't help. But I imagine that your best friend would always feel that you had treated her very shabbily.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:

I have been reading so much about teen agers using narcotics that I became worried and the mothers of our school children had a survey made. We found that there was no problem here.

We wondered whether our small town was unusual or whether this was the case in most of the less populated places.

MOTHER.

Answer:

The problem of teenagers using narcotics is mainly one for the larger cities in the United States. Of course, a thing like that will spread to Canada if left unchecked and the officials of these larger places should accept the responsibility for this disgraceful situation and get to work and put away these peddlers of vice.

The city of Los Angeles has made the effort to do just this by stricter law enforcement and I understand that the officials there have been very successful.

Three-fourths of the young drug addicts come from metropolitan areas and from homes that are broken, or worse. That, of course, doesn't mean that there are not exceptions for some of these youngsters do come from decent homes.

Children who live in good homes and have interested and loving parents are taught the dangers of such habits and even though they begin on a dare or because of association with bad companions, their parents will probably discover the trouble before the case becomes a hopeless one.

More power to women who think enough of their children to try and find out if there is any reason to be worried. An ounce of prevention, you know, is worth a pound of cure.

LOUISA.

Having borrowed a friend's small electric heater during an emergency, I returned to borrow it a few weeks later, only to have her coolly say, "I'd be glad to lend it to you if I had it, but you never brought it back!" M.K.

When the barber began arranging my small daughter's hair into a "pigtail" style, she strenuously objected. "Honey," he said, "that's the style for a three-year-old girl."

Needlecraft News

by Pauline Roy

HOME ENTERTAINING is an art that reflects the talents and personality of the hostess and provides a challenge for her originality. She knows color is important and should be chosen to match, or harmonize with the color of the room. In many cases the luncheon cloth or place mat is chosen to suit the occasion. For instance, Christmas table decorations are red and green, or all white to depict snow scenes. Tinsel and artificial snow can also be used to create winter scenes. During Easter purple and yellow are suitable or perhaps spring flowers if the Holiday is late in the season. All white is the most popular choice for brides, while pink and white is the color for little girls' birthdays. Blue is the choice for small boys and the darker colors, such as greens and browns, are better for older boys. These are general rules which can be used as a guide and every hostess strives for newer and brighter effects because she knows the beauty of her table makes her food more palatable.

Informal Trend

Informal entertaining is becoming more popular. Newer houses are being built with smaller dining rooms and some with none at all. We must be careful, in these cases, not to overlook the fact that good table settings and good manners are essential at all times no matter what the trend is in architecture. Children must be trained when they sit at the table, whether it is in the living room or in the hall, to realize they are having dinner and they should act accordingly. The incentive to do this is greater if their dinner is served nicely and the table well dressed. Sometimes it is fun to change the location of the table. Try putting it near the window on bright days to give the family a nice view; on cold dreary days set it near the fire. If you have no fire-place, draw the curtains and use candles to create a cozy warm atmosphere. All these things are very simple but add greatly towards making a happy and more comfortable home.

Embroidered Place Mat

The attractive place mat pictured above is made of beige and brown ribbed decorator's cloth and is extended at each end with embroidered bands of plain brown cotton. The embroidery is done in cinnamon. If you wish to make this EMBROIDERED PLACE SET FOR FOUR, a direction leaflet is available. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. E-1589.

New Dodge On Display At Local Dealers

Featuring the new "Oriflow Ride", the 1952 Dodge passenger car models are on display at Purity Service Station, Beiseker.

Once again, Dodge offers a wide range of models—from the Dodge Kingsway 2-door sedan in the lowest-priced class to the medium priced Dodge Coronet. The Coronet is equipped with Fluid Drive as standard equipment and is available with Gyro-Matic transmission at extra cost. The Dodge Kingsway, Regent, Crusader and Mayfair models and the all-metal, all-purpose Savoy and Suburban are powered by a 97 h.p. engine. The bigger Dodge Coronet has a 105 h.p. engine. Principal contribution to the Dodge "Oriflow Ride" is made up by the new-type Oriflow shock absorbers—specially designed to give complete ride control on any kind of road. They are particularly effective in very rough going, quickly dampening out even the severest bumps. Tests have proved that the result is a smoother, safer ride for driver and passengers with the driver having better control of the car at all times.

A choice of 8 standard colours is available throughout the whole Dodge line. In addition, two metallic colours, gunmetal and gypsy green, are available at extra cost. Two additional metallic colours, Burgundy maroon and Fiji green, are available at extra cost on the Dodge Coronet only.

The Dodge "hard-top" model, the Mayfair, features a new two-tone colour treatment—the "top" colour being carried down across the trunk lid. This colour treatment combines with added chrome garnish moulding to give a sweeping, stream-lined effect to the whole car.

In introducing these new models the manufacturers stress the many safety and performance features which are exclusive to cars manufactured in Canada by the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited. These include knee-level seating; safety-rim wheels; the oilite filter in the gas tank which keeps all dirt and water from entering the gas lines; and floating power engine mountings.
